

Docket EPC-71UABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A system of donating customer rebates to various organizations involves assigning to organizations and affiliated supporters and to merchants individual identifications, maintaining a schedule of rebates due each of the organizations from the merchants, during a transaction between a customer and a merchant, collecting from the merchant the identifications of the customer and the merchant, calculating the rebates due from each merchant to each organization, and crediting the organizations with the amount of rebates due from each of the merchants.